WIDE-EYED LISTENING

Matthew 27:50-51

The curtain is symbolic of a specific way of seeing & interacting with both God and the world.

Worldview 1: there is separation between that which is sacred and that which is common.
Leviticus 10:8-11

The most sacred of all spaces and things was the temple. It was the center of spirituality.

Worldview 2: what was once separated is now integrated.

A primary goal of Jesus' ministry was to adjust our worldview.

Jesus makes Himself the new center of spirituality. Matthew 12:6

God can now be found in the ordinary. – John 12, Psalm 139, Deuteronomy 6:4-8, Genesis 28:10

Wide-eyed listeners are called to look beneath the common stuff of life and find a deeper realm.
